

BOOK LIST

Ages 3 – 5

This wordless picture book follows the story of a mouse who discovers another group of animals on the other side of a wall. They all team up to dismantle the bricks and build a bridge between their islands. This hopeful tale aims to teach young kids the importance of working together with everyone in society.

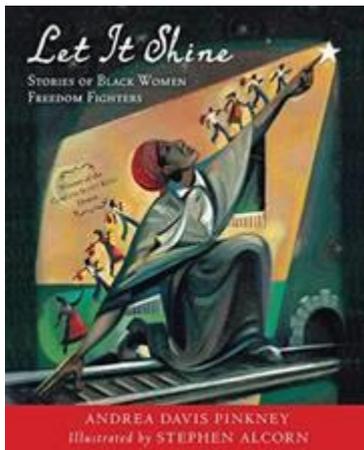

Ages 4 – 7

This book encourages children to accept everyone and be comfortable with racial differences, while opening up discussion points for parents and children. The book comes with a guide for parents on how to use the book with their kids, a glossary, suggested reading and more resources.

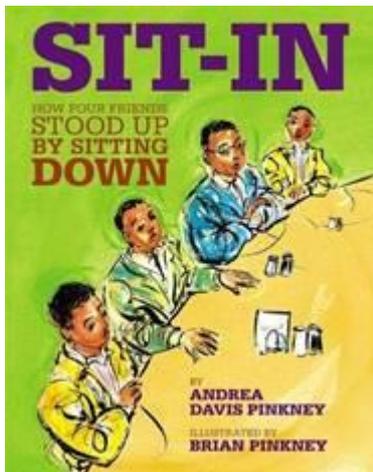

Ages 4 – 8

This book follows a white family and a Black family as they discuss a police shooting of a Black man in their town. The tale hopes to help children understand and identify racial injustice while answering any of their questions about these traumatic events. The book also contains information for caregivers on how to talk to children about race and racism with child-friendly definitions.

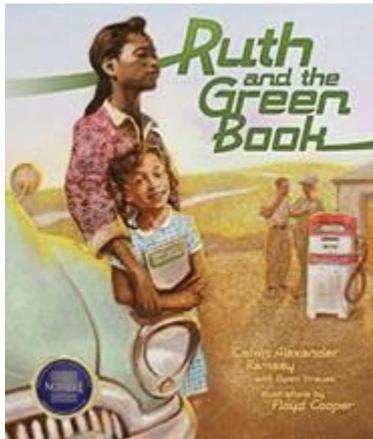

Ages 6 – 9

This book celebrates the lives of 10 incredible Black women in history who had the courage and bravery to speak out in the face of oppression, even when no-one was listening to them.

Ages 7 – 10

This book tells the true story of four college students who staged a peaceful protest in 1960, sitting at a “whites only” lunch counter - a moment that went on to define the struggle for racial equality in the US.

Ages 7 – 11

In the 1950s Ruth and her family take a trip in their new car and the little girl soon discovers that Black travellers are not treated well in some towns. A gas station attendant shows Ruth's family The Green Book, a guide to all the places that would welcome Black travellers to help the family on their journey. While Ruth's story is fictional, The Green Book is real and was an important guidebook for African-American travellers until 1967.
